

ABSTRACT

A wrapper-strap for a sandwich, wherein the wrapper-strap is made of elongate foldable sheet material. The sheet material is shaped and dimensioned to fit snugly belt-fashion around the sandwich. The wrapper-strap has complementary first and second fastening formations, towards opposed ends thereof. The fastening formations permit the wrapper-strap to be fitted snugly around the sandwich by fastening the two fastening formations together.